

Discover Kagan

Unleash The Power of Engagement

Vague definitions of “student engagement” create confusion and contribute to the achievement gap. Have you created a common definition of “student engagement” in your district? Are all leaders looking at engagement through the same set of eyes? Do your instructional practices ensure ALL students are active with academic content? Kagan has the answer! It is possible to structure engagement so that every learner is active. If you want to narrow achievement gaps you cannot engage a FEW students or SOME students; you must engage ALL. Structured interaction is the key. During this interactive session, Kagan will demonstrate how engagement for ALL can become a reality in your district.

Highlights...

- Explore the research on student engagement.
- Reflect on the critical importance of instruction in closing gaps.
- Experience how to make all learners active in the classroom.
- Analyze teacher videos for levels of student engagement.
- Discover how to identify faulty engagement strategies.
- Create a common understanding of effective student engagement.

Discover Kagan. Discover full student engagement!

Administrators Applaud Kagan...

“ Simply amazing! New ways of thinking that will help my district in a new direction for staff and students.
—Shawn Arnold, Superintendent of Schools

“ So relevant! Game changer.
—Dottie Brown, Executive Director of Elementary Education

“ Insightful, practical, and important.
—Becky Ince, Principal

“ This has been a game changer for me. This is exactly what I needed.
—Marcus Timmons, Assistant Principal

Just for Administrators

This session for administrators has been designed to help building level and central office leaders vet Kagan Professional Development’s research-based approach to boosting student achievement through active engagement. Kagan has proven effective in countless classrooms, schools, and districts. Experience firsthand a revolutionary way to teach that is transforming teaching and learning. Discover Kagan and consider how we can work together to bring full student engagement to your district.

It's All About Engagement!